The Inquiry topic this term is “Weather”. The students went to the Otago Museum to learn about different weather conditions and did experiments to see how the weather is affected by surrounding conditions. They looked at the equator and how warm the countries are surrounding it. It was a great day, enjoyed by all.

CHILDREN ARRIVING BEFORE 8.30AM

A reminder about procedure for children arriving at school before 8.30am - Kelly Club provides supervision for children from 7.30am – see information sheet from the office for costs/times/occasional bookings, etc. Children who are not booked in at Kelly Club, but arrive at school before 8.30am will need to wait on the courts, as they are not permitted into classes before then. This is a valuable time for teachers as they prepare for the day. Your support in this matter is appreciated.

FUTURE FOCUSED EDUCATION
OPPORTUNITY TO HEAR INTERNATIONAL PRESENTER MARK
OSBORNE – 15 JUNE

We are delighted to be able to offer parents and caregivers the opportunity to hear internationally renowned presenter Mark Osborne explain how schools are preparing students for 'their future; not our past'.

Mark has worked with both East Taieri and St Clair Schools on the development of a collaborative approach to teaching as well as promoting learner agency in our students.

We are offering two parent sessions on Thursday 15 June – one at East Taieri School, 4.00pm – 5.00pm and the other at St Clair School 7.00pm – 8.00pm.

Outline of presentation: 'Future Focused Education'

Schools, just like many other parts of our community, are experiencing significant change. They are trying to keep pace with rapidly evolving technology, changes in the world of work, and the demands being placed on our young people. This presentation will look at some of the key trends impacting on education and how schools are responding to these trends by adopting innovative approaches not only to what and how students learn, but also where they learn. Come along to hear how schools are preparing students for 'their future; not our past'.

Mark Osborne is Director of Leading Learning Ltd and has been a teacher, school leader and consultant for more than 20 years. He works nationally and internationally on future-focused education, innovative learning environments and educational leadership, helping schools build great places to learn and the capability to make the most of those spaces. Mark is also a doctoral researcher at the University of Melbourne currently looking at change leadership in innovative learning environments.

Prior to becoming a consultant, Mark was on the foundation leadership team at Albany Senior High School. He has also worked extensively in libraries, with digital technologies and in makerspaces, working to create diverse, inclusive communities that help each other learn, innovate and find fulfilment.
